GARDEN LOVERS MEET

FIRST SESSION OF HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY WAS A SUCCESS

As a result of the efforts of a number of amateur and professional horticulturists in Glendale, a very successful gathering was brought together Tuesday evening in the council room of the city hall. All those present were able to recognize each other as entitled to credit on the score of long practice in horticultural matters and also as profound lovers of all that is useful and beautiful in garden cultivation.

Prof. C. E. Houdyshel, professor of physiology, biology and physiography in the Union high school, was appointed temporary chairman. On assuming his duties the chairman said: "All those in Glendale who are interested in the advancement of the city in horticultural matters have looked forward for some time with interest to the possibility of getting together those who have this matter at heart. We have all recognized the necessity for the formation of a horticultural society in Glendale and we hope now that it is an accomplished fact that it will flourish and do much good. As a member of the Union high school faculty and also as one who is specially interested in the study of botany, in common with other members of the faculty I have rejoiced to learn that there was so good a prospect of having so useful an association in our midst.

"You are aware that a great deal is being done in the high school to teach the students to understand flowers and plants from a scientific standpoint. We also teach them to love them from the standpoint of common interest. I believe that this society will do much to foster a love of gardens and flowers among all classes."

Mrs. Nanno Woods was appointed temporary secretary of the association. She said: "In common with many other lovers of flowers and gardens in this city, I have long thought that there ought to be organized in our midst a horticultural society that would include both professional and amateur growers. In forming this society we should not lose sight of the fact that if it is to do any good, it must be organized as much from the standpoint of the common citizen as from that of the grower.

"In order to insure that the society may be open to all who desire to join it and may thus reach with its benefits all classes, I suggest that in organizing we determine on an entrance fee that shall be merely nominal. This will enable us to issue an invitation to everybody to join our ranks.

"I would also suggest that one of the first works undertaken by the society be the organizing of plans for holding an autumn show of chrysanthemums and other flowers of the season. We should interest the school children in our work by offering prizes for collections of pressed wild flowers and also for the best flowers grown by them from seeds and slips.

"I believe that when this society holds its flower show it should be actuated not by the idea of making money, but with an intense purpose to educate the citizens in horticulture and stimulate them to greater accomplishment in that direction. To this end the entrance fees should be merely nominal. Popular shows should have popular prices. This would enable whole families to attend the shows and to get together the benefits to be obtained there.

"I am certain that this society can accomplish a very great deal for the benefit of Glendale and I think we might be able to secure the co-operation of the Glendale Evening News to the extent of publishing weekly a half column or so in which members might exchange views and get valuable hints.

Mr. Freeman Kelly spoke generally of the benefit the society might accomplish in the city by stimulating the development of gardens.

Mrs. Ella Richardson also spoke in support of the views generally expressed.

It was arranged to hold a meeting of the society in the council chamber of the city hall next Tuesday, when the final organization of the society will be made. The chairman said that he hoped all amateur and professional growers would be present at the next meeting and would help them to determine the policy of the society.

MRS. WOOD'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Wood will be held Thursday at 9 a. m. at the Holy Family church. The Scovern-Letton-Frey Undertaking company is in charge.

MUSIC AT THE CLUB

TUESDAY AFTERNOON LADIES HEAR FINE CLASSICAL CONCERT

It would be hard to find a more enthusiastic audience than that which filled the Masonic temple Tuesday to hear the program which was said by many to be the finest given this year before the Tuesday Afternoon club. The program was in charge of Mrs. Freeman Kelly, curator of the music section of the club.

The two Chopin numbers as played by Mrs. Vivian Webb were splendidly given and the quartet which followed, consisting of the voice, harp, violin and flute, held the audience spellbound. It was a beautiful combination and seemed to give all that is sweet and beautiful in music at once. The soprano, Miss Florence Mead, is the possessor of a particularly sweet voice, which blended delightfully with the instruments. The harpist, Miss Lois Jones, was a perfect picture in a golden costume, while her dainty fingers "touched the golden harp gently."

Miss Martha Porter never played the violin better. Her tones were beautiful. Mr. Mead, the noted flutist, charmed the audience with the clear, mellow tones of his flute.

Following the quartet, duets with the violin and harp were given while one listened almost breathlessly to their sweetness of tone.

The "Meditation" from Verdi's "Thais," Gounod's "Ave Maria" and "The Swan" by Saint Saens, were the selections; and it is hard to say which scored the highest for beauty and sweetness.

Again the quartet of voice, harp, violin and flute were heard in Gounod's "Sing, Smile and Slumber," which elicited round after round of applause. Then the charming little harpist gave two selections, one a Fantaisie from Verdi's "Rigoletto," which showed great skill and brilliancy of touch. The second "Oh, Evening Star," from "Tannhauser," a Wagner number, was simply delightful and soothed the very soul.

Then a request for "The Mocking Bird," one of Miss Jones' father's favorites, was immediately and graciously granted and was rendered with much brilliancy and expression, thrilling one with its sweet notes.

Altogether the program was one which will long linger as a delightful memory of this year's club program. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed by all while dainty refreshments were served by the members of the music section.

WOMAN'S CITY CLUB

The Woman's City Club of Los Angeles, which boasts of over nine hundred members, installed officers for the coming year Tuesday. The club is unique in many respects, providing as it does an open forum for discussion of questions of municipal, state and federal interest. Usually speakers on both sides of a question give their views, when a general discussion follows from the floor follows.

This club was organized just previous to the granting of suffrage in this state and numbers among its members several local women, of whom Mrs. Mary Gridley-Brady and Dr. Jessie A. Russell were charter members. The year just closed marked one of the most brilliant in programs and successful in every way of any since its inception, due undoubtedly to the splendid leadership of the president, Mrs. Shelley H. Tolhurst.

NEW CLUB MEMBERS

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Tuesday Afternoon club held in the Masonic temple Tuesday, the following were elected to membership in the organization: Mrs. T. D. Ogg, 149 South Kenwood street; Mrs. H. C. West, 125 South Kenwood street. Applications for membership were received from the following: Mrs. James H. Woods, Milford street, proposed by Mrs. Daniel Campbell and endorsed by Mrs. Harlan, and Mrs. Henry Johnston, 335 Everett street, proposed by Mrs. Martha McNutt, and endorsed by Mrs. Fannie McNutt. These applications will be voted upon at the next meeting of the board of directors.

Opportunities to better our condition in life are not so lacking as our ability to recognize them and industry in making them count.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES

DAILY ANNOUNCEMENT OF PURCHASE OF PRIZES SHOULD APPEAL TO EVERYONE

The News contest should attract young people as well as older persons. In the selection of prizes the management of the paper is choosing desirable gifts for all classes.

Tuesday we announced the purchase of the attractive $850.00 Maxwell touring car from the local King-Maxwell agency, Jno. A. Birtle.

Today we announce that The News has secured three $75.00 scholarships to the Isaacs-Woodbury Business College of Los Angeles, one of the best-known schools of business on the coast. Not only in size does the Isaacs-Woodbury college rank high, but particularly in thoroughness of their course of business training. No young person could ask for a better foundation in the race of life than to complete a scholarship in this well-known college. This offer of free scholarships is not only a generous one, but it comes at a most opportune time, as the winners will receive their scholarships Sept. 4, just prior to the opening of the fall term.

The time to decide to enter this contest is NOW, and the first thing to do is to cut out the nomination blank on page four of this issue and have it filed at The News office. After you have done this, thoroughly plan your campaign. Cut out the FREE coupon which appears in each issue of The News. Make out a classified list of your friends. Find out whether they take The News. If some of them are not subscribers, secure their subscription or the promise of same, if they are already subscribers get their renewal, for subscriptions to the Glendale Evening News mean votes, and votes are what you need to win the Maxwell auto or any one of the valuable prizes.

The contestants who start early in this campaign cannot fail to have an advantage over many who will put the making of their entry off from day to day. Be sure you have every chance by entering your name at once. If there is anything you do not understand about The News contest, read the rules on page four or phone Sunset 132 or Home 2401, or address the contest department of the Glendale Evening News.

BUSINESS MEN APPROVE OF METHODS

The Evening News is pleased with the favorable attitude business men take upon the question of "you charge, we charge." The business man who is expected to pay for the advertising space he uses, has good reasons for questioning the business methods of a publisher who publishes free notices for clubs and various organizations, when these clubs and organizations charge an admission to the entertainment advertised.

A newspaper must have paid advertising support and the more free advertising given to clubs and organizations, the higher the rate the business man will have to pay, for experience tells the wise business man that advertising support must come from some source.

HAND OUT BOUQUETS

At the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club held in the Masonic temple Tuesday, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The executive board and the membership at large of the Tuesday Afternoon club appreciate the co-operation of the many organizations and individuals whose efforts insured the success of the Glendale Festival of Fruits and Flowers, therefore be it Resolved, That a hearty vote of thanks be and is now extended to: Miss Barbara Mitchell and Miss Fredonia Borthick, queen candidates; to the Glen Eyrle chapter, No. 237, O. E. S., and to the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 1289, for their efforts in the queen contest; to the honorable board of trustees of the city of Glendale for their assistance in advertising; to the Chamber of Commerce, who arranged the Fiesta parade; to the Glendale public schools for posters and pageant; to the newspapers, for generous publicity; to Los Angeles and Glendale florists; to local and outside fruit exchanges; to the women's clubs for floral baskets, and to all those whose exhibits added to the beauty of the flower show; to the many individuals not club members who gave so generously of time, talents, labor and the use of property, and to all who in any way assisted in Glendale's Festival of Fruits and Flowers.

A full report of all departments of the festival will be given through these columns at a later date. So many departments consume time in adjusting bills and settling accounts.

RARE SNOW PLANTS

CURIOUS MOUNTAIN PARASITE FLOURISHES IN GLENDALE NURSERY

Brought from an altitude of 5600 feet and from the midst of surrounding snow drifts, a curious plant is now blooming away in peaceful serenity and apparent unconsciousness of the change, in flower pots at the Kelly-McElroy nursery on Brand boulevard. This rare production of nature is commonly called the Snow Plant. Its scientific, botanical name is Sarcodes Sanguinea. This name is descriptive of its appearance, Sarcodes being derived from the Greek "Sark" flesh and Sanguinea from the Latin "sanguis" blood.

The snow plant is a fleshy, bright red plant. It attains a height of about eight inches. It is a genus of monotropaceous plants consisting of a single species, growing at great altitudes as a saprophyte in coniferous woods.

In the high Sierras this plant sometimes appears in considerable patches and is spoken of as "red snow." The particular specimens that are now flourishing in Glendale were brought from the Little Bear valley some weeks ago, where they were blossoming in the midst of a recent snowfall. Mr. L. W. Chobe, 815 South Brand boulevard, found them and admiring their rarity and singular appearance, brought them home. They are well worth a visit.

AL JENNINGS AT BAPTIST CHURCH TONIGHT

Rev. John H. Troy is suffering from sore throat and upon the advice of a specialist, he will refrain from public speaking for a week at least. Al Jennings has promised to speak in Pastor Troy's place at the meeting this evening. There will be testimonies from members of the gospel team and others. The public is free invited to attend. Service will commence at 7:45.

Last Sunday evening every available inch was occupied. Never before has the local Baptist church seen such a crowd. Mr. Jennings' testimony is fascinating. Many pressed forward when the invitation was extended, among them a majority of men of the world.

Already invitations are being received from different parts of the United States for the opening of Al Jennings' soul-winning campaign. One from New York City has been accepted. One of the prominent churches of Brooklyn has telegraphed for the opening campaign. Mr. Jennings has accepted. Mr. Troy expects to accompany the noted character on his first expedition.

A certain evangelist in Los Angeles took the liberty to announce Mr. Jennings for revival service at Dreamland Rink, commencing Monday of the current week. Over 2500 crowded out to hear the converted bandit. Mr. Jennings has accepted no engagements in Los Angeles. He purposes to tarry and prayerfully wait for divine guidance.

On Monday evening at the Bible Institute a handsome copy of the Bible, with Dr. Torrey's work on "What the Bible Teaches, and an autograph copy of "Jesus is Coming," gift of the author, Mr. Blackstone, were presented to Mr. Jennings in the name of the First Baptist church of Glendale and the Bible Institute. Great enthusiasm was shown and there were many prophecies of another national evangelist.

SATURDAY BALL GAME

Those interested in the ball game will be glad to hear that a game has been arranged between the Glendale Saturday ball team and the Haas-Baruchs of Los Angeles. The Haas-Baruchs are the representatives of the wholesale grocers of Los Angeles and have quite a reputation as players. They have been seen in action at Tropic and gave a good account of themselves there.

MacDonald and Leahy will pitch for the Haas-Baruchs and will be opposed by Glendale's able battery, Marple and Matty McNutt. The teams are generally considered to be fairly evenly matched and both batteries are strong. There should be a good attendance. The Glendale team appreciates encouragement and it is likely to put up a better game when stimulated by the support of the public.

GENTLEMANLY DISCUSSION

The citizens who were present at the meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale Monday evening at the time the Ivy street curbing was up for consideration, were pleased to hear the sensible and gentlemanly way in which the respective property owners on that street presented their views.

MISSIONARY COUNCIL

WILL FRAME POLICIES FOR ADVENTISTS OF NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT

(By Frank A. Coffin)

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE, St. Helena, Cal., June 5 (Special).—The Educational and Young People's Missionary Volunteer Council of the North American Division Conference of Seventh Day Adventists opened here Friday night with an address by Elder E. E. Andross of Los Angeles, president of the Pacific Union Conference, on "The Demands of Our Times."

The most prominent educators of the denomination from all parts of North America are in attendance. Eighty-three delegates and visitors thus far have arrived. Among them are: Elder I. H. Evans, president of the North American Division Conference; Prof. Frederick Griggs, secretary of the educational department of the General or World Conference; W. E. Howell, assistant secretary of the educational department for North America; M. E. Kern, secretary of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer department of the World Conference; C. L. Benson, assistant secretary, all of Washington, D. C.; M. E. Cady of Oakland, educational and Young People's Missionary Volunteer secretary for the Pacific Union Conference, and Claude Conrad of Oakland, secretary of the Pacific Union Conference.

The council now in session will frame the educational and young people's policies of the denomination for the entire North American continent. This is the first time it ever has been brought to the Pacific coast, other meetings having been held in the East. It was through the earnest efforts of President Andross and Prof. Cady that the decision was reached to hold the meeting here at the college, eight miles from St. Helena. The sessions will continue until June 14.

The council is to be followed by a convention of all Adventist educators in California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona, those states constituting the Pacific Union Conference. The Pacific coast convention will be from June 18 to 26. A teachers' summer school will follow, being held from June 28 to August 3, and will be attended by Adventist church-school teachers in the four coast states mentioned. At the close of 1913 the Seventh Day Adventists were employing 1149 teachers and instructing 17,769 pupils in their many schools. The number has since increased.

Prof. C. W. Irwin, president of the Pacific Union college, heartily welcomed the delegates and visitors in opening the meeting Friday night, and turned over to them the keys of the institution. The responses were by M. E. Kern, representing the young people's department, and Prof. Griggs, in behalf of the educators. The opening scripture reading was given by President Evans from the 54th chapter of Isaiah.

A telling blow against higher criticism which leads to doubt as to the inspiration of the Bible, was struck by President Andross of the Pacific Union Conference in his address Friday night. He said heartily that it is more important than mental culture, although he would not discourage mental training in the least. However, he emphasized the statement that "of all things today we need purity before God." His address was a masterly review of present-day conditions compared with Bible prophecies. He urged that young people be efficiently and quickly trained to take part in the world-wide movement to give the gospel in every nation in this generation, because of the very near coming of Jesus Christ in the clouds of heaven. All things point to this momentous event, he said, rapid means of communication being in the providence of God for the special purpose of carrying Bible principles quickly to the world.

The world's educators have not succeeded in their efforts to make a perfect pattern for educational training, the speaker continued, and the latest theory often upsets standards which had the appearance of permanency. "There is no unanimity among the world's educators," he added, "but the closer we follow the pattern God has given us in the Bible and through the spirit of prophecy, the greater will be our success and the sooner our work will be finished. With an army of young men and women going forth from our schools who believe absolutely in God, who have consecrated their lives to his service, whose hearts have been cleansed from the dross of sin, who have been baptized with the Holy Spirit for service, the earth will be lighted with the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea."

TROPICO GRATEFUL

FIRE DEPARTMENT TENDERS TO GLENDALE A GRACEFUL COMPLIMENT

It is pleasing to note the grateful and graceful acknowledgement of the services rendered by the Glendale fire department at Tropic the other night, which acknowledgment is appended to this article. It is also satisfactory to know that in the event of a serious fire here Glendale has so able and so willing a neighbor as Tropic. There are circumstances conceivable when the Glendale fire department might be only too glad to receive the capable assistance of Chief Gould and his gallant crew of fire-fighters. Chief Gould writes as follows:

Tropico, Cal., June 7, 1915.

The Glendale Fire Dept., Glendale, Cal.

The members of the Tropic fire department hereby tender you their sincere thanks and high appreciation for your services at the fire in the city of Tropic this morning, begging to assure you of their hearty readiness to go to your assistance under like circumstances.

PLUMS! PLUMS!! PLUMS!!!

Not political plums—but nice, big, juicy Satsumas grow on trees at the residence of Myron L. Watson, 1450 West Second street. These trees, which are of the weeping variety, bore so heavily last year that many of the limbs were broken off by the weight of the fruit during the absence of the family on their summer vacation. The growth this year is all new and contrary to expectations, the trees are loaded with fruit. One branch of this new growth, thirteen inches in length, cut from the body of the tree, contains thirty-four perfectly formed plums, averaging four inches in circumference. Of course the fruit is hard and green and not fully developed yet. This is only another evidence of the wonders that Glendale soil and climate can produce.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Prof. John Uri Lloyd, president of Lloyd Bros., drug manufacturers of Cincinnati, Ohio, and author of Red Head, Stringtown on the Pike, Warwick of the Knobs, Eldorpha and other stories, renewed an acquaintance of forty years ago when he recently visited Dr. L. H. Hurtt in Glendale.

Prof. Lloyd and Dr. Hurtt were employed by the same man when learning the drug trade in their young days and their reminiscences of forty years ago were many, varied and pleasant.

Prof. Lloyd is many times a millionaire and is one of the commissioners from Ohio to the San Francisco exposition.

BOYS TAKE HIKE

Glendale people were under the impression that a detachment of the German army had invaded Glendale and was on the way to capture Sycamore canyon Tuesday.

A part of this supposition proved to be true, for fourteen boys of the Congregational church, chaperoned by the pastor, assisted by Mr. W. E. Wells, took possession of this stronghold in the hills Tuesday and did not relinquish possession until this morning. This invading army went equipped with all necessary paraphernalia for a day and night in the open and appetites sharpened by sports in the open air caused the provisions that had been amply provided to disappear as if by magic.

The boys returned home this morning enthusiastic over their outing and the night's rest with the grand old sycamores and oaks for shelter.

RETURN FROM NORTH

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson and sons, Ralph and Paul, of 200 Orange street, returned Tuesday evening from the North, where they enjoyed a most delightful visit. Mrs. Hutchinson went to San Francisco as a delegate to the convention of Woman's clubs and also to the state Congress of Mothers, which convened two days in the northern city, and the national conference of the same organization, which took place while the national officers were in San Francisco on their tour of the country. At the close of these conventions Mrs. Hutchinson was joined by her two sons and they spent a very pleasant two weeks visiting Mrs. Hutchinson's sister and attending the fair at San Francisco and also as guests of a former schoolmate in Stockton.

SECRETARY BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

Whatever may be thought of Bryan's fitness or unfitness for the office of secretary of state, which he has just resigned, there can be no doubt that his resignation comes at an awkward time. To resign at the moment of an international crisis is not exactly playing the game. The secretary's resignation will give much grim satisfaction to Germany, as that country desires nothing more than that the United States should be involved in such internal difficulties as might blind it to the pressing questions of the hour.

There is, however, another view of the resignation. Bryan has always been at variance with President Wilson on foreign policy and invariably during any critical period the president has been compelled to take the guidance of this country's policy into his own hands. Now that Bryan has removed himself from the cabinet, there will be less danger of war between this country and any European power than there ever was. Foreign nations will understand that the weakest element in the cabinet has been removed and that President Wilson's policy will receive the unhesitating support of every section of the nation.

It is unfortunate that Bryan's talents, which are none the less to be recognized because they are of a peculiar order, could not have been of service to the country. In the foreign office he was particularly out of place. It is certain that President Wilson and his cabinet will now be very much stronger to deal with the difficult questions affecting the relations between this country and foreign nations.

NOVEL SCENES IN WAR

All that Jules Verne or Max Pemberton ever imagined of the possibilities of submarine or aerial warfare has been outdone this week in the actual happenings in different areas of the war in Europe. The realism of Zola's "Debauchee" appears weak in comparison with the descriptions of the fighting in the Baltic provinces for the possession of the Dubysa river.

When the youthful Canadian aviator, Warnford, who had not yet won his spurs, if it is permissible so to speak, in aviation met a huge German Zeppelin in the early morning, he hesitated not a moment, but attacked it with unremitting fierceness nor ceased until under the repeated impacts of bombs the deadly aircraft exploded and plunged to earth from a distance of 6000 feet, carrying its numerous crew to death.

Such an air scene was never witnessed before. If it could be reproduced on a moving picture scene it would make the fortune of its producers.

Picture to yourself the huge airship hurtling to its doom and in its death throes exploding with such violence as almost to bring to grief its daring assailant, the aeroplane which was capsize by the sudden upward rush of air pressure and only righted after strenuous efforts on the part of its aeronaut.

Turn to the Baltic provinces and witness that terrific scene in where the river Dubysa changed hands no fewer than five times in a single day. See its waters running blood; the stream itself completely choked with thousands of dead bodies and a plank railroad laid over that solid mass of what were once living, breathing human beings, to permit the further passage of the victorious Russians. The pitiful downfall of the French at Sedan never presented so appalling a sight as that.

As development after development has taken place in the construction of machine guns and other weapons of destruction, it has been prophesied that war would perforce cease because the destruction would be so great. On the contrary the improvement in the weapons of slaughter seems to have begotten an intensity of fury on the part of those who are engaged in this horrible warfare that lifts them above all consideration of life or death. Never have troops rushed "to glory or the grave" with greater eagerness than the new levies of all nations are doing at the present moment.

Peace seems to have given birth to more ferocity and a more extraordinary type of bravery than has ever before been exhibited on any field of battle. It looks as though there were truth in the reasoning that professes to see an auto-intoxication on the part of the soldiers of Europe. Perhaps they are intoxicated by the sight of slaughter on so large a scale. Those masses of Germans rushing in quarter-column to certain death may bring along with them a hypnotic ether that inflames even their foes.

Courage of the highest physical type seems to have been created in every nation by this war and there appears to be no need to encourage the soldiers of any nation to rush merrily to death with a song on their lips. In the light of what is occurring on the stricken fields of Europe, an additional meaning may be found in the Latin proverb, "Whom the gods wish to destroy they first render insane."

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

Conditions in Mexico are rapidly nearing a crisis. That statement may savor somewhat of the ridiculous to some people, nevertheless it is the case that though Mexico has passed through several critical periods recently, it is nearer intervention now than it has ever been. Since Diaz fell from power Mexico has been engaged in a never-ending struggle—a struggle between those who should be brethren. Ground to the dust under the aristocratic and money-worshipping rule of Diaz, Mexico caught a faint glimpse of the light under the reform government of Madero. Had Madero not been murdered he might have led his land to peace and plenty. He had the right idea; but was far beyond his time, in advance of his age, consequently he fell a martyr to his own goodness.

"No public man," said Lord Lytton, "can afford to be an inch beyond his age any more than he can afford to be an inch behind it." In politics, he meant, the successful leader is the man whom everybody understands and of whom no class is afraid. That is not the type of man who becomes a reformer; but he is the type who becomes a leader. Mexico wants a leader sadly. It has already shown that it is not worthy of a pure reformer like Madero.

Mexico is the richest mining country in the world. No other land has placer or quartz mines to equal those of the land of the Aztecs; yet this once-prosperous country is now reduced to comparative want; its lucrative commerce is virtually paralyzed; its exceptional productiveness is sadly diminished; its fields are laid waste; its mills are in ruins; and its people are perishing by tens of thousands from hunger and destitution.

Whole provinces in Mexico have been laid waste and the only business that now offers a living to the wretched peons is war. That is a savage sarcasm to all appearance, yet it is a sad reality. "Take me into the army that I may eat a little bread," is the cry of the peon, whose living has been destroyed. Thousands of innocent women and children are in dire distress. They are literally starving to death. They need present aid. They need also such measures taken in their behalf as will prevent a recurrence of such dreadful conditions. Steps must be taken to relieve the country during this period of distress and also to send it such assistance as will do something more than merely prolong its misery.

It is not sufficient to say that Mexico is another country and that all these things are taking place in another country and that therefore all this is none of our business. It is our business. It is as much our business as though murder were being committed in the house next door to our own. It is right at our door. We owe it to those people to afford them protection and indemnity for life and property which no government of their own seems able to afford.

From what President Wilson has said recently, it is evident that he thinks that the period of "watchful waiting" has come to an end and that a new era has begun when with or without the assistance of the Mexican leaders of all sides, peace, order and good government must be established in the country.

All this will undoubtedly be done without resentment or revenge, with no desire to annex territory, but with a full determination to put an end to the intolerable conditions which have prevailed so long in the southern republic. In such a course as this the country, which has every confidence in the integrity of President Wilson, will stand by him and support him to whatever may be the outcome of such a policy.

GERMANY'S MEDIATOR WITH AMERICA

Germany believes in the old style of politics. The kaiser and his advisers use every means in their power to influence a government with which they may be dealing. They labor with the cabinet of that country as a whole and also with its individual members. They work through the public newspapers and procure the insertion of various series of articles intended to influence public opinion in their favor. At times, when something that strains the truth serves their purpose, they do not hesitate to use it. They seize on distinguished foreigners who are visiting the United States and induce them to give out interviews that more or less tend to make certain points clear or to darken others.

In short, German policy is as far removed from the traditional "shirt-sleeves" policy of the United States as darkness is removed from light; and looking at what has happened since Von Jagow came to the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin to handle foreign relations for the kaiser, this policy seems to have been intensified if anything.

Von Jagow is an able politician and diplomatist. He accomplished the renewal of the Dreibund, which was once considered impossible. It was a notable achievement; but a few months afterward the Italian armies were marching on Trieste and Trent.

If the German mediator is no more successful in the United States than he was in the case of Italy, his record is not likely to please the kaiser, who may see reason for "dropping the pilot" before long.

PERSONALS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jose Felix of 512 South Jackson street, Tuesday, June 8, 1915, a son.

Mrs. Robert Hawkins of Los Angeles spent Tuesday afternoon with her friend, Mrs. I. J. Phillips, 710 West Fifth street, as a dinner guest.

Samuel Parker of 417 Brand boulevard is having a pleasant outing—visit with the family of his nephew, Rev. Leslie G. Parker, pastor of the First Christian church, Santa Monica.

Tickets for the senior class play, which is to be given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, are now on sale. The plat for reservations is at Cornwell & Kelly's.

Messrs. S. Moody and O. Reimer of Leed City, South Dakota, were in Glendale Tuesday as guests of Geo. T. Paine, 118 Orange street, who was a former resident of that state.

The Priscilla club, which has been noted for its activities for some time past, adjourned during the summer months. By fall the ladies hope to be able to resume their former delightful meetings.

There is much rejoicing at the home of M. L. Walton, 1436 West Third street, over the advent of a son who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walton on Sunday evening. Mrs. Walton and the boy are both getting along nicely.

Mrs. Lena Mackay Jack and daughter, Miss Adalene, who have been the guests of Dr. Jessie A. Russell of North Maryland avenue, left Tuesday for San Diego, where they will spend some time at the exposition and Coronado Beach.

The arrival of a second boy at the residence of Mr. Lee Murdock, 1476 West Second street, the other day, was received with great satisfaction. Mrs. Murdock is making an excellent recovery and the new arrival is healthy and happy.

The Pioneer club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Van Dyke, 1430 West Third street, for the usual sewing session. Refreshments will be served and the entertainment will be in honor of visiting guests, Mrs. Vandeburgh, Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. H. W. Yarik, Mrs. W. D. MacRae and Mrs. R. E. Frey.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter E. Edmonds of 421 Cedar street kindly opened their home to the members of the T. I. C. class on Tuesday afternoon, June 8th. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in games, music and conversation. Delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served. Ten members of the class were present, together with the teacher, Miss Bessie L. Field, and the members of the Edmonds family.

Miss Laura Vermillion of St. Louis, Mo., who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Van Dyke, 1430 West Third street, is spending a short time in San Diego among her friends and relatives there. Miss Vermillion writes enthusiastically of the beautiful country she has seen on the Mexican border, up the Old Mission valley, the Old Mission cliff gardens, Coronado with its fine beach, Point Loma, Ramona's home and other points of interest.

Mrs. Cleora Sprague, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. J. R. Barrows, 443 West Colorado boulevard for some time, has left to go to the San Francisco exposition. She is the owner of one of the most interesting mines in the United States—a garnet mine in Alaska. This mine is producing the only real hard garnets in the United States, which can be used for the production of a spearing powder. The mine has an excellent exhibit at the San Francisco exposition.

Dairies come and dairies go, but MacMullin's goes on forever, because it produces the best, purest and cleanest milk in Glendale. 24915

LUTHERAN AID SOCIETY

The Aid society of the English Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon at the parsonage, 340 S. Central avenue. Let all come prepared to sew.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE

The Baptist Ladies' Missionary circle will meet at the home of Rev. and Mrs. John H. Troy, 330 Orange street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Field will conduct the devotional exercises and Rev. Mr. Troy will address the ladies.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon, June 18th, with Miss Olive Marsh, 211 Cedar street. Program, "Flashlights of State Convention and Civics Study." Mrs. Sloan's Bible lesson will occur at 3:45. Everybody welcome.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Congregational church will meet Thursday for an all-day meeting. Lunch will be served at noon. The committee in charge of the lunch are Mrs. R. G. Paine, Mrs. Wm. Nash and Mrs. Brace. The business session will hold a meeting at 1:30 o'clock. Sewing will be provided for the ladies.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sherwood of 1320 North Maryland avenue entertained Tuesday evening in honor of eastern friends, who are visiting them at the present time.

Mrs. J. C. Dennerlen and Mrs. G. L. Kinnear of Rosemore cottage, 1305 North Central avenue, enjoyed an extensive motor trip last Saturday and Sunday as guests of Mrs. Dennerlen's brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Humelbaugh of Los Angeles.

Mr. R. H. Whitten of Kenneth road has sold his dairy to Mr. E. L. White, who is now conducting it under the name of the Glendale Sanitary Dairy. The removal of the dairy from Mr. Whitten's ranch gives him the necessary room to enlarge his poultry business. A large force of men is now engaged in making alterations and additions and Mr. Whitten claims that when the improvements are completed he will have the best equipped poultry ranch in the United States. It will embody the very latest ideas to make the ranch a model one from both sanitary and labor-saving standpoints. It will also be the largest ranch in America devoted exclusively to heavy-laying White Orpingtons, in which breed Mr. Whitten specializes. Visitors are always welcome at the Whitten ranch.

Mr. Arville G. Williams of 1690 Stocker street left Sunday evening for Inglewood, where he will be the guest of his uncle, Mr. W. A. Williams, during the summer months.

TROPICO

Miss Alice Mae Bahrenberg of St. Louis, Mo., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg of "Twin Pines." After visiting her aunt for a week she will go to Long Beach, where her mother, Mrs. Katherine Bahrenberg, has established their home, and where they will reside in the future.

The patrons of the Pacific avenue school are urged to be at the school building Thursday evening at seven o'clock to attend a most important meeting relative to perfecting ways and means for the playground that it is desired to equip on the grounds surrounding the Pacific avenue building. Mrs. Ella W. Richardson is aiding the principal, Mrs. Fanny Stone, in this most worthy cause.

Miss Emma Haggerty of Los Angeles is the guest of Mrs. David H. Imler on West Park avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Norman Bahrenberg of Los Angeles entertained Miss Alice Mae Bahrenberg of St. Louis with a charming breakfast at their home Monday. Elaborate decorations marked this delightful social function. Other guests included Mrs. Katherine Bahrenberg, Mrs. Albert Buisser, Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg of Tropic, Mrs. Karl de Val Hundt and Miss Agnes Buisser.

The graduating exercises of the Tropic grammar school will be held in the auditorium of the Glendale Union high school Thursday evening.

GLENDALE HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey have as their guest Miss Eva Mylott, a celebrated contralto of Australia. Mrs. Lindsey and Miss Mylott have been friends for some years and the sweet singer is delighted, not only to be with her friends, but to be able to rest between her concert engagements amid such beautiful surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark spent Sunday visiting among their friends in Glendale Heights, all of whom have a warm welcome for the young couple.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephenson of Los Angeles spent Sunday in Glendale Heights. Being owners of several lovely lots in this section, they were especially pleased to note the handsome bridge on Opechee way and the fine work done on other streets.

Miss Dumpke of Colina drive is visiting her brother near the desert.

Cars loaded with rock come down Canada boulevard in the wee sma' hours now and work on the park bridge is being pushed right along.

You're half way there when you know where you want to go.—Robert Whitaker.

From the verdict of a coroner's jury: "The deceased came to his death from a railroad in the hands of a receiver."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Animal bones, found in Wyoming, are said by scientists to be 200,500,000 years old. Why couldn't they make it an even 201,000,000?

EVERYONE SUPPORTS NEWS

It has become very common among the citizens of Glendale to send yearly subscriptions of the Glendale Evening News or the Tri-City Progress to their friends in distant states. It has been learned that there is no better way for the people residing in Glendale to keep their friends outside of Glendale posted in regard to the doings of this city than by mailing copies of the Evening News to them. It also has become customary for citizens who leave Glendale on a summer vacation to order the paper sent to their address while absent. There are many events transpiring in their home city, some of them of a social nature and some of a municipal nature, that it is important for property owners to know about. Thus the value of having a local paper in their possession while absent from the city.

It is with a considerable degree of pride that the editor of the Evening News recognizes the fact that from month to month there is a growing desire on the part of the people of Glendale to read their daily paper, the Evening News. There are happenings recorded and important notices published that can be found in no other paper. While the city papers spasmodically give considerable publicity to Glendale, they cannot be depended upon as being regular in giving publicity and too often the publicity they seek to give is of a character to do more injury than good to the community.

The mission of the Evening News is to serve as a strong community newspaper. The plan of its entire organization has this purpose in view and from year to year, as it becomes necessary to add new equipment to better serve the reading public, the same will be done without the least hesitation. It is gratifying to know that so many people appreciate the efforts of the publisher and the only way the management can repay those who so often express their appreciation is by giving this community a better and more worthy sheet.

Rules of the Contest:

Any person, man or woman, married or single, in Glendale, Tropic, Burbank, Eagle Rock and vicinity, is eligible to compete.

Any boy or girl is eligible to compete, providing the written consent of parents is furnished.

No employe in the office of the Evening News or relative of such employe can compete.

Voting ballots issued on subscription payments are good and can be voted or held until the last day of the campaign. They are not transferable.

Candidates may secure subscriptions and coupons ANYWHERE, regardless of the "district" in which they are entered.

All moneys paid to contestants on subscriptions must be sent at once to the Contest Department. Do not turn your subscriptions over to agents or collectors.

At the close of the contest the count of votes will be made by a committee of prominent citizens, who will award the prizes.

Contestants may nominate themselves, or be nominated by friends, without any cost.

The name of a person who places a candidate in nomination will not be divulged under any circumstances.

In the event of a tie, prizes of an equal value will be given.

The publisher of The News will decide all questions which may arise during the contest and his decision must be final. Contestants in entering this contest thereby agree to the rules of the contest and all rulings which the publisher and proprietor of the Evening News may make.

Everyone Wins!

Ten per cent commission on new subscriptions will be given everyone who does not win a prize.

ONCE UPON A TIME

Once upon a time a man invented glasses with which people could see their own faults. He starved to death.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Once upon a time a preacher told his congregation just what they deserved to hear. He was lynched.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Once upon a time a lover told his girl that she was not the only girl he had ever kissed. She dropped dead.—Houston Post.

OUR FRENCH

Professor Poussin, the Belgium refugee professor at Harvard, was pained at a dinner in his honor by the applause and cheers which greeted his description of ruined Louvain and wrecked Liege. But when it was explained to Professor Poussin that the Harvard professors and students had a very slight knowledge of French—he had spoken in French—his perplexity vanished and he smiled.

"I see," he said; "I see, it is like the case of Mrs. Smith."

"Mr. Smith, an American, said to his wife at a Paris restaurant:

"Strange! I spoke to the proprietor in French and he didn't understand me."

"Well," said Mrs. Smith, "no wonder. He's a Frenchman!"

TECHNICALLY STILL AT WAR

Berwick-on-Tweed has more than once been "arrested" by contending nations, since, being independent of both England and Scotland, by legal fiction or reality, it has happened to offend one or the other of them in a crisis. By the way, it may not be widely known that Berwick-on-Tweed is still at war with Russia, for the town was specially mentioned as a separate belligerent in the ultimatum delivered to Russia ere the Crimean struggle began. But when the peace pact was signed afterward the name of Berwick was omitted as a party to this. So technically Berwick still continues to be at war with the czar.—London Answers.

WE'RE FROM MISSOURI

Hiram Johnson, a farmer living near Waterville, N. Y., tells a beautiful tale of how he utilizes the digging propensities of three woodchucks which he captured. He says he has trained them to dig straight postholes any depth and size required. He explains that he ties a cord to one of the animal's hind legs, indicates where the hole is to be dug, and when it is sufficiently deep he pulls the cord. The woodchuck then scrambles up for his reward of dried alfalfa.

THE RICH LITIGANT

The Rev. J. H. Rice, the preacher-judge of Emporia, is famed equally in Kansas for the eloquence of his sermons and the justice of his police court rulings.

"Well," said Dr. Rice modestly at a recent dinner in his honor, "I feel your praise is exaggerated, but at least I can say that I go into court with clean hands—cleaner hands, eh, than the rich litigant?"

"A rich litigant, you know, had directed his lawyer to wire him at his Palm Beach villa the result of a certain suit. The lawyer wired accordingly:

"Right has triumphed."

"Thereupon the litigant wired him back:

"Appeal at once."

ALIEN ELEMENT FUSED

One of the most inspiring features connected with the development of the crisis between the United States and Germany as a result of the sinking of the Lusitania and other incidents of the war, is the prompt action of the American citizens of German birth in taking their stand behind the president in his determination to uphold and defend the rights of our people.

These former residents of the fatherland, forgetting their bitter criticism of the president, have loyally flocked to the standard of the nation.

A few weeks ago we heard much of the German-Americans. Now we do not hear of them at all. They are all simply and solely Americans.

With very few exceptions the German papers of the country support the policy of the president. Although they find it hard to meet a situation which compels them to choose between their country that was and their country by adoption, the editors unflinchingly uphold President Wilson. In order to ascertain the attitude of Americans of German birth in the present crisis, the New York Herald made specific inquiries of a large number of them throughout the country. They were found to be practically a unit in declaring their support for the president in his determination to protect the rights of our citizens on the high seas.

There was no reason to expect any other result, for in the darkest hours of the republic men of this same stock proved a tower of strength to the Union.

The assurance that the former residents of Germany will uphold and safeguard the Stars and Stripes furnishes new proof of the strength of the principles on which the republic is founded.

In the great "melting pot" all alien elements are fused into true Americans, ready to defend the republic in every crisis.—Sacramento Union.

"My wife gets nothing but apprehension out of life." "How's that?" "She's afraid of cows in the country and automobiles in town."

WAR FOR SPOILS

The entrance of Italy into the war at this time furnishes an anti-climax to the most stupendous folly and wickedness ever perpetrated by man since time began, for her participation in the conflict is openly and barefacedly for spoil. No other reason has been advanced or can be advanced. She is a victim of her own preparedness. But for her preparedness she would not—could not—have entered the war, but she has been standing at arms for months, apparently waiting to ascertain which of the contending powers would offer the highest price for her participation on the "right" side.

The unfortunate country seems to have succumbed to a noisy element like that which drove the United States into the Spanish war, tried to drive it to intervene in Mexico, seeks to raise a scare about Japan, and would have war with Germany. The losses and suffering which are inevitable to her now will be poorly compensated for by any extension of her national boundaries, which may come by the disintegration of the central empires as the result of the war, if Germany and Austria should be beaten.—Monrovia News.

CAT CLUB MEETING

The Southern California Cat club, of Los Angeles, of which Mrs. Helen Harmon of the Rosemary Cattery at Montrose is president, met at the home of Mrs. N. N.
